Juristic person: In this Hold-harmless Indemnity Agreement the term “juristic person” means an abstract, legal entity ens legis, such as a corporation, created by construct of law and considered as possessing certain legal rights and duties; an imaginary entity, such as Debtor, i.e. MALCOMB CHRISTOPHER ALLEN BROWN (&ADT), which, on the basis of legal reasoning, is legally treated as a sentient being for the purpose of conducting commercial activity for the benefit of a biological, living being, such as a Creditor.

From the earliest times the law has enforced rights and exacted liabilities by utilizing a corporate concept – by recognizing, that is, juristic persons other than blessed living souls. The theories by which this mode of legal operation has developed, has been justified, qualified, and defined are the subject matter of a very sizable library. The historic roots of a particular society, economic pressures, philosophic notions, all have had their share in the law’s response to the ways of Men in carrying on their affairs through what is now the familiar device of the corporation. Attribution of legal rights and duties to a juristic person other than Man is necessarily a metaphorical process.

Living, breathing, flesh-and-blood Man: In this Hold-harmless Indemnity Agreement the term “living, breathing, flesh-and-blood Man” means the Creditor, Malcomb Christopher Allen Brown©, a sentient being and blessed living soul, as distinguished from an artificial construct, ens legis, i.e. a juristic person, created by construct of law.

Non obstante: In this Hold-harmless Indemnity Agreement the term “non obstante” means words anciently used in public and private instruments with the intent of precluding, in advance, any interpretation other than certain declared objects, purposes.

Sentient, living being: In this Hold-harmless Indemnity Agreement the term “sentient, living being” means the Creditor, i.e. Malcomb Christopher Allen Brown©, a living, breathing, flesh-and-blood Man, as distinguished from an abstract legal construct such as an artificial entity, juristic person, corporation, partnership, association, and the like.

Transmitting utility: In this Hold-harmless Indemnity Agreement the term "transmitting utility" means a conduit, e.g. the Debtor, i.e. MALCOMB CHRISTOPHER ALLEN BROWN (&ADT).

&ADT: In this Hold-harmless Indemnity Agreement the term "&ADT" means "& All Derivatives Thereof".

Debtor acknowledges consents and accepts all provisions of this Hold-harmless Indemnity Agreement and agrees that Debtor is bound by all terms and conditions as set forth herein.
